Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) Telehealth Compendium March 2018

Acronyms List

AHRQ – Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality - lead Federal agency charged with improving the safety and quality of America's health care system. AHRQ develops the knowledge, tools, and data needed to improve the health care system and help Americans, health care professionals, and policymakers make informed health decisions.

ASTHO – Association of State and Territorial Health Officials - national nonprofit organization representing public health agencies in the United States, the U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia, and over 100,000 public health professionals these agencies employ.

ATA – American Telemedicine Association - non-profit organization whose goal is to promote access to medical care for consumers and health professionals via telecommunications technology.

CCHP – Center for Connected Health Policy – HRSA-funded National Telehealth Resource Center focused on telehealth policy.

CTeL – Center for Telehealth & eHealth Law - legal and regulatory telehealth organization – providing support to the community on topics such as: physician and nurse licensure; credentialing and privileging; Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement; and private insurance payment policies.

CMS – Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services - part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. CMS oversees many federal healthcare programs, including those that involve health information technology such as the meaningful use incentive program for electronic health records (EHR).

FCC – Federal Communications Commission - regulates interstate and international communications by radio, television, wire, satellite, and cable in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and U.S. territories. An independent U.S. government agency overseen by Congress, the Commission is the federal agency responsible for implementing and enforcing America's communications law and regulations.

HRSA – Health Resources and Services Administration – part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. HRSA is the primary federal agency for improving health care to people who are geographically isolated, economically or medically vulnerable. For the purposes of this compendium, HRSA funds the Federal Office of Rural Health Policy, Office for the Advancement of Telehealth which administers programs for advancing telehealth in rural and underserved communities.

NACHC – National Association of Community Health Centers - serves as the national health care advocacy organization for America's medically underserved and uninsured and the community health centers that serve as their health care home.
